Art Unit: 1712

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Specification page 1, paragraph [0001], line 2, after "July 30, 2001," insert --abandoned,--.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

2. The election of species requirement mailed February 14, 2006 has been withdrawn since claim 2 limited to the compound of formula I wherein R¹ is the residue of a polyalkylene glycol constitutes a constructive election.
3. The closest prior art to Klein Patent No. 4,133,803 discloses the reaction product of a polyoxypropylene polyamine with excess anhydride. The claimed compound of formula I containing the moiety $-(Z)_m$ derived from the reaction of a polyphenol or aminophenol with the reaction product of an amino-terminated polybutadiene or polyalkylene glycol with excess (di)anhydride is not recited. There is no motivation to further modify the reaction product of Klein via reaction with the claimed polyphenol or aminophenol.
4. Schenkel Patent No. 6,776,869 (col. 4, lines 39-65) depicts component B) of formula I. The moiety $-NH-R^2-NH-$ is structurally distinct from the claimed X substituent of formula I which is a C₂₋₆ alkyl or the residue of an aromatic (di)anhydride.

Art Unit: 1712

5. European Patent Nos. 309,180 (page 3, lines 35-53) discloses the reaction of an aminophenol with a polyimide derived from an organic diamine and a dianhydride. The claimed polybutadiene or polyalkylene glycol residue R¹ of formula I is not recited, nor is there any impetus to employ such a residue as the organic diamine of the European patent.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
